

KASETSART UNIVERSITY EXCHANGES AND LEARNS ABOUT STUDENT ACTIVITY DEVELOPMENT

On August 29, 2022, Kasetsart University engaged in an exchange to learn about the development of student activities. The Energy, Environment, Safety, and Occupational Health Management Center (EESH), led by the Sustainable Activity Promotion Division under the EESH Center, welcomed a group of professors and students from Kasetsart University. The visit included a tour of the Green Society building, with presentations by the EESH Center's faculty on student development in line with the university's policies. Following the presentations, the visitors participated in a bicycle tour to explore and study, while exchanging knowledge about sustainable green university initiatives.
